

How to input an Alert in FxYourself.com

- Choose a currency pair from the dropdown menu.
- For now choose the EUR/USD
- Press the 'Get current price' button.
- Leave the next box at 'GREATER THAN'
- From the number-pad key in a number a little higher than the current price.
- If current price is 1.1312 key in a little higher, 1.1322
- Check your figures and if all is correct press enter.
- Now press the 'Get current price' again, the Market price may have changed.
- Now select 'LESS THAN'
- From the number pad key in a number a little lower than the current price.
- If current price is 1.1315 key in a little lower, 1.1305
- Check your figures and if all is correct press enter.

You now have 2 alerts, one a little higher than the current price and one a little lower, so one is sure to trigger soon.

Later the Market may change direction again and it could trigger the other alert. Because alerts are relative to Market prices some alerts may never trigger. For the demo, alerts only last 24hrs.
